

NOTES ON THE SPEAKERS AND CONTRIBUTORS

Afamefuna P. Eyisi, Lecturer, Department of Archaeology and Tourism, University of Nigeria, Nsukka.

J.O.J. Nwachukwu-Agbada, PhD is a Professor of English at Abia State University and has served as Dean both of MJC Echeruo Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (2004-2008) and the School of Post-graduate Studies (2011-2014) of Abia State University

Governor Peter Gregory Obi, CON
Executive Governor, Anambra State of Nigeria (2006-2014)

Chinwe Okpoko, Lecturer, Department of Mass Communication, University of Nigeria, Nsukka.

Pat Uche Okpoko, Professor of Archaeology and Tourism & Impact Assessment, University of Nigeria, Nsukka.

Esther Nkiruka Ugwu is a Professor of English Pragmatics at the University of Benin, the very first female Professor in the Department of English and Literature, University of Benin as well as the first female Professor in the Faculty of Arts of that University. She was the Assistant Dean of the Faculty of Arts (2012-2016).